They were edging cauthously across a narrow shelf only a few rods below when she reached the desired point and threw her rifle in position. It was too good a chance to be lost.

"Hands up" she ordered sternly.
Ten pairs of eyes flashed at her in consternation as the same number of hands rose into the sir; but as they saw the fine beyond the rifle barrel, the hands wern down with simultaneous relief. They had thought it Sels. Some of the men began to laugh.

"I said 'Hands up'" Luisita repeated slowly. "I am not making words, and most of you know how I can shoot. Senor Sels is escaping from you now, and I shall keep you here until he is safe. Stop!" as a rifle barrel rose a little. "or I shall fire. You may kill me, but I can shed half of you from that ledge before you do it—and I will. Now up! Quick"

BERLIN, Dec. 12.—By virtue of his divine right-that good old standby-Katser Wilhelm has annexed the prevince of milliner. At a recent affair he ordered low-necked drosses for the ladies. A few who, preferring less majeste to brave pneumonia, came in the high-necked article, were by royal mandate led away into a waiting room, where official ladies, provided with shears, very soon rendered the obnoxious dress lawful.

Now that it has been disclosed to his Majesty that it is the duty of a ruler to look after the dress of his female subjects we may expect the issue of some startling tirades. Rumor already has it that after several consultations with the Minister of War. Wilhelm decided to order the introduction of the hoops again, and was only stopped by a rebellious Cabinet. But this is only rumored. All Christian people will hope that it is not so.

The Sunday evening at-homes of Dr. and Mrs. McEnery have already become quite the event for this otherwise quiet night. The hospitality of host and hosters is most pronounced and their rooms are now the center for a congenial gathering. About thirty called night before last and a delightful hour was passed.

Imitation Widow to Be a Real Wife

Pretty Mabel Deane Has Run Away From "The Runaways," to Be Married.

A runaway from "The Runaways" is the culmination of a pretty romance in real life enacted at the close of the engagement here of the company produc-"The Runaways."

eagement here of the company producing "The Runaways" Pretty Mabel Deane of the company, who played one of the charming widows, resigned her post when the curtain was rung down at the Sait Lake Theater Saturday evening. Her leave taking was quite a friendly one, as she was a general favorite with the other members of the cast. It was not until last evening that the real cause of her retirement became known.

Miss Deane is to be married, having found a man who will hereafter devote all his time and attention to her, and she will hereafter play to an audience of one.

While in Seattle recently Miss Deane met a wealthy man of that place who became most devoted, and an engagement resulted. When the company arrived here Miss Deane was prevailed upon, by letter, to give up the stage and return to the Northwest to be married. So she handed in her notice and gave it out that she was going to visit her mother in Portland. This is quite true, as she left for Portland last midnight, but to some of her closest friends she told the secret that she was going to be married to the man of her choice, and would leave the stage forever.

Miss Deane was stopping at the Wilson, where her friends bade her good-bye when they left to make the next town.
